Automatic Electric is the exclusive distributor of Comco cords to the Independent Telephone Industry

Comco Cords

Commercial Cord, a division of General Cable Corporation, is the Independent Telephone Industry's one source supplier for all replacement telephone cords. Regardless of brand of manufacture, style, color, or type, Comco can fill your requirements. No order is too large or too small.

Comco offers unexcelled service from large inventories of standard cords, straight and retractile, for instruments manufactured by Automatic Electric, Kellogg, Leich, North, Stromberg-Carlson and Western Electric; in Canada, Northern Electric.

Because Comco specializes only in the manufacture of telephone replacement cords, it is able to devote its design, engineering and research talents to the production of extra-high quality replacement cords. Only the finest of raw materials are used. Materials and work in process are under intense and continuous control to insure the quality you expect and demand.

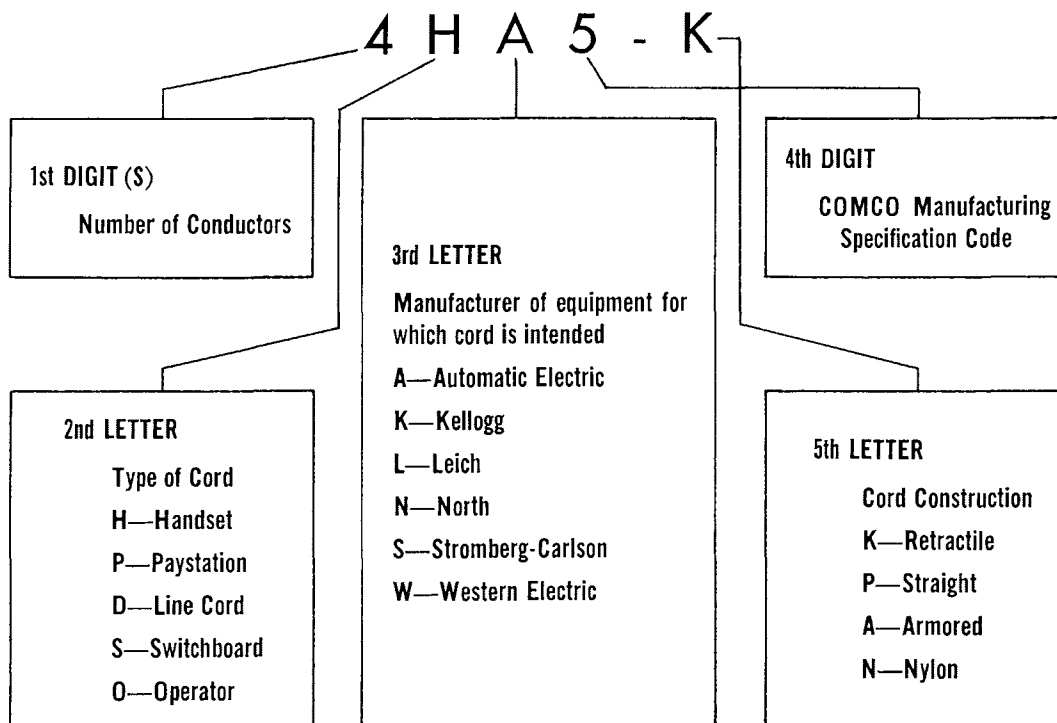

Comco cords are constructed with the finest grade tinsel conductors. The cords are insulated with thermoplastic polyvinyl chloride (PVC) to yield the highest electrical characteristics and give the maximum durability. Insulated conductors withstand flexing for years of trouble-free service.

New Spiraflex® Soft-Pull Retractable Cords are manufactured with smaller tinsel. The resulting smaller diameter cord is lightweight and extends easily with less pull on the telephone. The patented Spiraflex process enables the cord to remain permanently retractile. High luster, solid integral color, thermoplastic jackets match standard telephone sets.

With modern manufacturing plants located in Cass City, Michigan, Dixon, Illinois and Hamilton, Ontario, Comco furnishes all standard cords from stock. Its versatility permits furnishing non-standard lengths, non-standard finishes and custom-built cords manufactured to individual specifications on short notice and in any quantity.

Ordering Number Code

Ordering numbers describe the replacement cords they represent. Tables on the following pages list each item of telephone equipment for which each replacement cord is designed.

Handset Cords

Available as straight or retractile cords. All lengths are butt to butt, plus or minus 4 inches.

When ordering, specify full ordering number, proper suffix, length and color.

NOTE: For straight cord substitute suffix P for suffix K.

CORDSLINE, HANDSET, HEADSET AND SWITCHBOARD*NEW LINE CORDS*FOR GTE AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC TELEPHONES REQUIRING 5 CONDUCTORS OR LESS

These cords now come in one standard color only: transparent aluminum. No longer do you have to stock cords in a wide variety of colors to match the telephones you have installed. Transparent aluminum cords complement every telephone color. And installer truck stocks are reduced, too. By carrying only a few cords, instead of dozens, an installer can be ready to replace any line cord. And fewer cord colors mean easier ordering and fewer mix-ups.

Cords for Types 80 and 182 telephones have color-coded spade terminals on both ends. Cords for Type 981 telephones have spade terminals on one end, plug on other end (for quick plug-in connection to telephone base).
