Select a line, press the "On" side of the transmitter, then dial without lifting the handset. Your voice is picked up by the transmitter sensitive enough to hear voices clearly anywhere in your office. A dial on the transmitter controls loud-speaker volume.

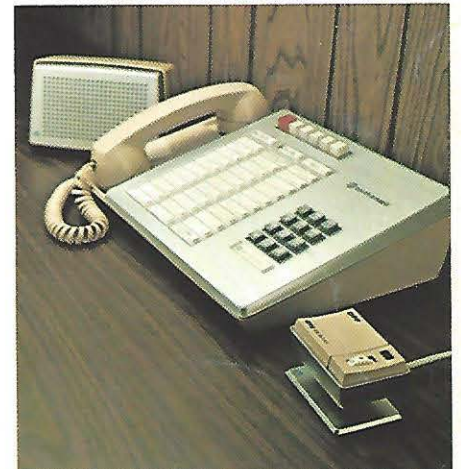

Want privacy? Automatically cancel out speakerphone feature and use your phone in the regular way, even in the middle of a conversation, merely by picking up the handset.

Hold down "On" side of the transmitter (Quiet feature), and you can talk privately with those in your office whenever you wish without risk of being overheard at the other end.

Meeting groups can hear and be heard clearly by those at the other end of the line. Using speakerphone at multiple locations permits electronic conferences that can increase the frequency of communication and, at the same time, let you save substantially on time and travel expense.

The speakerphone combined with the Touch-a-matic® telephone is the ultimate in hands-free telephony.
